

Dri-Joint Expansion Joints

'Dri-Joint' has been especially designed to eliminate the over-frequent renewal of sealing compounds to expansion joints, of pre-cast concrete panel constructions.

Both ultra-violet rays, and chemical compounds carried in the air, attack the sealant compounds breaking them down and rendering them inefficient. By fitting 'Dri-Joint' after sealing, the expansion joint is now fully covered, offering total protection to both the sealants used and the joints themselves, expanding and contracting with the building. Supplied in highest quality, powder-coated aluminium in lengths as required.
